THE PENALTY FOR NON-PAYMENT OF SEMI-ANNUAL TAX .- Many, if 'not most persons, mistake the effect of the tax law passed at the last session of the Legislature, providing for the payment of onehulf of the assessed tax upon the 20th of December. The supposition is very general that the penalty is but five per cent upon the amount due upon that day, and consequently that there will be no additional penalty if the taxes are not paid before the 20th of June of the next year, and that the penalty therefore is but about equal to the ordinary rates of interest charged by Bankers-say, about ten per cent. per annum.
